BILTMORE ESTATE SPORTSMEN'S CLUB

Vanderbilt Purposes Leasing Game-Stocked Acres.

TO LIMIT THE MEMBERSHIP

Proprietor of North Carolina Resort Interests Many Prominent Men in the Plan.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Biltmore, the 130,000-acre estate in North Carolina owned by George W. Vanderbilt, is about to be converted into an exclusive hunting and fishing club.

Its membership will comprise many of the most prominent devotees of the rod and gun.

Just before sailing for abroad Mr. Vanderbilt submitted a proposal to Edgar B. Moore, proprietor of Kenilworth Inn, North Carolina, now an "all-year-round" resort, to the effect that the estate be used as a great fishing and hunting preserve in connection with the Kenilworth Inn.

Organizing Club.
"Negotiations are practically concluded," said Mr. Moore today, "and I am now organizing the club, which I will conduct in connection with Kenilworth Inn."

The property, which Mr. Moore expects to lease for a number of years, will not include the 10,000 acres of private grounds surrounding the mansion. Since Mr. Vanderbilt purchased Biltmore, some eight or ten years ago, there has been no hunting or fishing on the preserve, and the grounds, in which wild game roams, and the streams, well stocked with fish, will make a paradise for the sportsman.

Wild Game.
Quail flocks in large numbers, wild turkeys and pheasants abound in the preserve, while deer and black bear roam through the forest. For the opening of the club Mr. Moore contemplates inviting President Roosevelt to Biltmore to participate in a bear hunt. "I shall organize a club of from seventy-five to one hundred members," said Mr. Moore, "and my idea is to have it exclusive and to include some of the best-known club members in the country."

Mr. Moore has recently returned from Boston, Newport, and Narragansett, where he has met with signal success in his efforts to interest sportsmen in his plan.

SHRINKAGE IN ESTIMATES FOR WAR DEPARTMENT

Aggregate Larger Owing to the Inclusion of the River and Harbor Improvements.

War Department estimates for the year 1905, just submitted to the Secretary of the Treasury, are about $130,000,000, as compared with $120,000,000 for 1904. They include $16,000,000 for river and harbor improvements for which no estimates were submitted last year.

The estimates for the military establishment, which includes pay, equipment and supplies for the army, is about $75,000,000, or $20,000,000 less than for 1904. For public works of a military character, including arsenals, fortifications, buildings and grounds, $24,000,000 is asked. This is $15,000,000 less than was asked last year.

WASHINGTONIAN MADE INSPECTOR GENERAL

The Army and Navy Union of the United States, in annual convention in Pittsfield, Mass., elected M. J. Hackett, of Washington, as inspector general. Y., and to allow membership to any member of the navy over eighteen years old and who had the consent of his parents or guardian to join the union.

BY TELEPATHY BRYAN GOT BENNETT BEQUEST

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 24.—Information from reliable sources is to the effect that the proposed contest of the will of Philo S. Bennett, who left $50,000 to William J. Bryan and his family, will entail a charge of undue influence against Mr. Bryan, which will result in an analysis for the first time of the power of Mr. Bryan over people. It is probable that in the allegations of undue influence against Mr. Bryan, which it was announced positively, would be made by ex-Judge Henry Stoddard, counsel for Mr. Bennett. It will be set forth that Mr. Bryan did not purposely exert an influence on Mr. Bennett that warped his will so that he made large cash gifts to Mr. Bryan and left him a substantial bequest.

DR. WILEY LECTURES IN A FAMOUS COURSE

Speaks to Historic Franklin Institute of Philadelphia—Prof. Colby's Appointment Announced.

Dr. H. W. Wiley, of the Department of Agriculture, delivered a lecture in Philadelphia last night, in the Franklin Institute course, on the operations of the pure food law and the investigations conducted by him into adulterated foods and wines. The lecture took place in the historic auditorium of the institute in Seventh Street, Philadelphia.

The Franklin Institute, named after the great philosopher, has made its lecture course famous throughout the country by the notable men who have lectured before its members. Its aim is to hear from acknowledged authorities the newest discoveries along scientific lines. For many decades the honor of speaking in the institute course has been highly regarded by scientific men. John Birkinbine, whose name in Philadelphia has been synonymous with the institute's work, presided.

While in Philadelphia Dr. Wiley will confer with customs officials of the port and with Appraiser John F. Hartman, regarding the workings of the pure food law.

The appointment of Prof. George E. Colby, of the University of California, as mentioned in The Times two weeks ago, was announced at the department yesterday. Dr. Colby has been named special agent of the department to pass upon food samples at San Francisco, just as Dr. Wiley does here. He will submit reports and duplicate samples to Dr. Wiley to enable the latter to follow the course of work on the Pacific Coast. Prof. Colby's appointment is for the purpose of avoiding the delay of at least a week required to transmit samples here and telegraph back the results of the analysis.

DISMISSED MINT EMPLOYEES ARE TO BE REINSTATED

Result of Conference of Director Landis With President and Judge Cooley.

A conference was held at the White House yesterday between the President, Civil Service Commissioner Cooley, and Director Landis of the Mint at Philadelphia. As the result of it, the five employees of the Mint recently discharged for alleged political reasons will be reinstated. The office will be put on a civil service basis in every respect. The President supported the stand taken by the Civil Service Commission.

Mr. Landis informed the President that the employees, three of whom were watchmen, were discharged because their services were no longer needed, and not because of politics. He denied that he has met with signal success in his efforts to interest sportsmen in his plan.

SPIRITUALISTS CLOSE THEIR CONVENTION

Charge That Missionaries Are Imposed On—State Organization Unable to Support Them Disputed.

The annual convention of the National Spiritualists' Association closed yesterday. St. Louis was selected as the next place of meeting and officers were elected at the afternoon session as follows: Harrison D. Barrett, Boston, president; Dr. George B. Warner, Chicago, vice president; Mrs. Mary T. Longley, Washington, D. C., secretary; Theodore J. Mayer, Washington, D. C., treasurer; I. C. L. Evans, Nebraska; Cassius L. Stevens, Pittsburgh; Thomas Grimshaw, St. Louis, and Mr. Carrie E. S. Twing, New York, trustees.

The committee on finance, ways and means made a final report and raised about $1,500 for the ensuing year, and this was followed by the presentation of an illuminated address to Theodore J. Mayer, of Washington, in recognition of his work as treasurer.

Incidental to the reception of the report of the committee on missionaries an animated debate was held in which attention was called to the alleged imposition of missionaries on State organizations unable to support them and not wanting them. E. W. Sprague, of New York, one of the prominent missionaries, controverted in a heated speech, the charge that State and local societies had been led to support missionaries.

The last evening session of the convention was largely attended. More than the usual number of musical selections were included in the excellent program of entertainment. "Spiritualism and its needs" was the subject of an interesting lecture by Mrs. Carrie Firth-Curran. Spirit messages were also received. At the close of the session President Barrett was given an ovation.

MARBLE PREFERRED FOR UNION STATION

Business Men's Association to Request Commissioners to Aid in Substituting This Material for Granite.

The Business Men's Association of Washington voted to ask the District Commissioners to insist upon white marble in the new Union Station instead of granite. This, the first regular fall meeting of the association, was held in the Barton Hotel last night. A committee of five will call upon the Commissioners in regard to the use of marble in the Union Station.

Henry E. Davis, former District Attorney, criticized the association because it had allowed Congress to pass a law allowing the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio Railroads a bonus of a million and a half dollars for the new terminals.

William Hahn discussed the comparatively high rate of insurance in the District.

C. C. Lancaster recommended that the members of the Senate and House Committees be entertained at a series of dinners this winter so that the business men might become better acquainted with them.

The attention of the association was called to a permit granted the Potomac and United States Electric Power Companies by Secretary Root making them partners with the United States in the Great Falls dam, which impounds the water supply for the District. A committee of five was appointed to investigate the matter.

TREASURY STATEMENT.

Government receipts yesterday were: From customs, $61,544.02; internal revenue, $136,077.02; miscellaneous, $40,285.46; total receipts, $1,518,906.57. Total expenditures were $1,770,000. The total receipts this month have been $35,302,219, against $38,915,000 for the corresponding period last year. The excess of expenditures over receipts thus far in the fiscal year is $795,504.

SECRETARY SHAW SPELLBINDING.

Secretary of the Treasury Shaw is now speaking in Iowa. He made his opening address for the campaign in that State at Muscatine last night. A feature of his address was a strong plea for opening the markets of South America to United States products.

ISRAEL E. WILEY WINS FIRST DEBATING HONOR

Mormon Student Candidate for the Presidency of the Senior Law Class of Columbian University.

Israel E. Wiley, of Utah, last night won first honors in the opening debate of the Columbian University Debating Society. Mr. Edlestein, of Wisconsin, took second honors.

Mr. Wiley is one of the three candidates for the presidency of the senior law class of the university. He was opposed at the last meeting of the class on the ground that he was a Mormon. This question was raised by a supporter of Raley, the candidate opposed by one of the fraternities of the school, Mr. Wiley represents the non-society element in the class, and the feeling is running high over this election. Mr. Wiley, it is said, has a number of good friends in the class who will stand by him, no matter what his religion may be.

HEARST DEMOCRATIC CLUB ELECTS ITS OFFICERS

An enthusiastic meeting of the William Randolph Hearst Democratic Club, No. 1, was held last night at 323 Seventh Street southeast, the president, Mayo C. Mitchell presiding. The following additional officers were elected: P. W. Nally, treasurer; J. E. Bayly, financial secretary; Henry Otton, assistant to George C. Cole, secretary. Speeches were made by President Mitchell and others. The club will procure uniforms and organize a drum corps in the near future. Headquarters have been established at 323 Seventh Street southeast.

TO REINSTATE MEN IN PHILADELPHIA MINT

Director Landis of the United States mint at Philadelphia and Mr. Cooley of the Civil Service Commission held a conference with the President yesterday afternoon regarding the recent discharge of five men from the Philadelphia mint. The Civil Service Commission complained that the men had been discharged for political reasons by Mr. Landis. The matter has been satisfactorily adjusted and all of the men will be reinstated. President Roosevelt has insisted upon this, and his attitude is satisfactory to the commissioners.

JOHN PHILIP SOUSA RAPIDLY RECOVERING

No Permanent Injury Likely to Result From Recent Mishap.

There is a marked improvement in the condition of John Philip Sousa, and his attending physician, Dr. J. S. Allen, predicts a speedy recovery and has no fear of any evil effects resulting from the wounds, which are nearly all healed. With philosophical nonchalance Mr. Sousa has taken advantage of the time he has been confined to his room at the New Willard to formulate novel ideas for his new opera.

Together with Mrs. Sousa and the Misses Sousa, he will go to Hot Springs, Va., next Wednesday and later to Henderson, N. C., where they will be the guests of Maj. Richard Sutherland. He will have an extensive gunning trip in the mountains of North Carolina where quail abound. Mrs. Sousa, who is as much a Diana as Mr. Sousa is a Nimrod, will accompany him on these outings.

SOCIETY BELLE WEARS UNIFORM OF COWBOY

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—After working as a cowboy and earning $2.50 a day for her labors, during which time she wore trousers, Mrs. Pearl Trude, daughter-in-law of Attorney A. S. Trude, a woman whose beauty and wit have made her one of the reigning favorites of Chicago society, and a horsewoman without a peer in the city, returned to her home at 540 Drexel Boulevard. Her friends did not at first credit the report of her venture, but she settled all doubt on the question.

SEASONABLE FOOD SUPPLIES ON MARKET BENCHES.

Colder weather and a brisker business gave the market a more cheerful appearance this morning. The flower market, which is now in full blast, lent a bit of picturesqueness to the scene, brilliant chrysanthemums and roses being among the most plentiful flowers.

A good supply of oysters was on the market today, and from present indications the season should prove a remarkably good one. They still bring 20 to 25 cents a quart. Fat, firm Blue Points are to be had at the usual price. Clams are very scarce. Lobsters bring 20 to 25 cents, and are perhaps as good now as at any time. Frogs brought anywhere from $1.50 to $2.50 a dozen. The rest of the fish market showed little change. There are not many river fish now on the market, the greater part of the supply being shipped here from the coast.

Poultry was rated nearly the same as yesterday. Chickens were 18 to 20 cents, and ducks 20 cents. Turkeys were 16 to 18 cents. Fowls brought 15 to 16 cents.

Eggs were no lower in price than they were yesterday. Meats were plentiful and high, as usual.

The vegetable supply was limited, but fairly good. A small supply of new peas were sold at 25 cents a quart of a peck. Sweet potatoes ranged from 10 to 12 cents a quart of a peck. A larger supply of cranberries was on the benches.
